

Software Engineering Homework #7 – due April 1, 2008

Instructions

So far, you have completed a requirements document and a design and planning document for your project. In this assignment, you will update these documents, taking into account both the evolution of the project and the feedback you have received.

Each team must send a copy of the revised documents to barrett@cs.nyu.edu by midnight on the due date. The subject line of the email message should contain only the word “hw7”.
