SCI-FI TECHNOLOGY SHOWCASE

A showcase of awe-inspiring technology available today.

Date: Monday January 9, 2011 6:00 – 8:00 PM

Venue: Google, 76 Ninth Ave.

The pace at which new consumer technology is being developed seems nothing less than remarkable. What was cutting edge one year ago is now mainstream and boring while in the mobile and tablet computing, gaming and web 2.0 industries, product life cycles are measured in months.

At this general meeting of the New York Technology Council, we will showcase some of the most exciting technologies that will be introduced into the consumer space in the next six to twelve months.
