Letter in Support of Mr. Yanji Xu

Dear Sir or Madam,

Yanji Xu has been working in my lab to search the literature for small molecules, construct a database of small molecules in CML files and develop the tools to compare these small molecules. He has shown himself to be a hard worker with lots of initiative and a pleasant manner. We don't have a publication from the work yet, but I think there is a good possibility this will lead to some nice data mining possibilities. I recommend him highly.

Best Regards,

Dennis Shasha
