

NYU GRADUATE SCHOOL OF ARTS & SCIENCE

Teaching with Technology Conference

Teaching with Technology Conference – Friday, April 16, 2010

Open to the NYU community, this full-day conference, sponsored by the Center for Teaching Excellence and the Graduate School of Arts and Science, will feature keynote speakers and presentations on:

- The Future of Instructional Technology
- Improving Education with Technology
- E-learning and Open Education
- Computing in the Humanities: Digital Archives
- Learning Environments
- Games for Learning
- Immersive Environments and Second Life
- Learning Activity Management System / Open Source
- Blogging to Foster Collaboration Between Faculty and Students for Academic Research

Participation in the Teaching with Technology Conference does not require a full day commitment. Please see the schedule and find the session that most meets your needs.

For additional information and registration details, see the CTE website at <http://www.nyu.edu/cte/Programs.html>

Updated on 04/09/2010

