

New York University

A private university in the public service

Courant Institute of Mathematical Sciences
251 Mercer Street
New York, NY 10012-1185

August 29, 2013

Felix Moody
fmm281@nyu.edu

Dear Felix:

I am pleased to extend an offer of employment to you as a Part Time Junior Research Scientist, in the Computer Science at Courant Institute of Mathematical Sciences, New York University. This position August 1, 2013 through August 31, 2013 and reports directly to Dennis Shasha.

Your duties will continue to be to build a simulator for fault tolerant circuits in synthetic biology.

Teaching opportunities may also be offered as part of your appointment.

Salary

You will continue to be paid $1,000 biweekly for 20 work hours per week, at $25.00 per hour. This wage is subject to appropriate tax withholding and is overtime eligible. You will be paid on a bi-weekly pay cycle with payment occurring every other Friday. Time sheets must be submitted for payment.

Start Date

Your employment in this position shall continue on August 1, 2013. Enclosed is the New York State Labor Law Section 195(1) notice. Immediately upon accepting this offer of employment, please sign the Labor Law Section 195(1) notice and this offer letter. Please scan both signed documents and send to them to Karen Micallef at micallef@cims.nyu.edu with a copy to me.

Benefits

You will continue to receive the benefits in which you have enrolled. You may review your benefits on your work tab at NYUHome. An overview can be found here:

<http://www.nyu.edu/employees/benefit/full-time/Professional-Research-Staff-Code-103.html>

Contingency

This offer of employment is contingent upon your eligibility to work in the United States. You are required to present original documentation that verifies your eligibility to work in the United States when your employment commences. Please follow the link below to the I-9 form for a list of acceptable documents.

<http://www.nyu.edu/content/dam/nyu/hr/documents/ei9.pdf>+

NSF requires that all post doctoral researchers supported by NSF to conduct research, receive training in the responsible and ethical conduct of research. A program for providing such training has been organized by NYU. For more information please read:

<http://www.nyu.edu/research/resources-and-support-offices/training-and-certification/rcrtraining.html>

Continued employment in this position is subject to the availability of grant funding.

Vacation Policy

The Courant Institute's vacation policy for researchers requires that accrued vacation time be taken during designated periods, which are the first 2 full weeks in January and the 2 weeks in June.

In accepting this offer, you agree to abide by all NYU policies in effect from time to time, including but not limited to the conflicts of interest policies and intellectual property policies. These policies can be found on the NYU website at <http://www.nyu.edu>. The Policy for Postdoctoral Appointments can be found at <http://mph.nyu.edu/content/dam/nyu/compliance/documents/PostdoctoralAppointmentsPolicy2011.pdf>

To indicate your acceptance of this offer, please sign this offer letter and the enclosed New York State Labor Law Section 195(1) notice. Scan both signed documents and send them to Karen Micallef at micallef@cims.nyu.edu. Please copy me on the email.

I am delighted that you will be joining the team and look forward to working with you. Welcome to NYU!

Sincerely,

Dennis Shasha
Professor

Signature of Acceptance
Felix Moody

Date

25-92311-Q0141-F5633